

INTERPRETATION & DOCUMENTATION OF ISO 22000:2018 FSMS

Introduction

ISO 22000:2018 is known as Food Safety Management Systems-Requirements for any organisation in the food chain.

The adoption of a food safety management system (FSMS) is a strategic decision for an organisation that can help to improve its overall performance in food safety.

The potential benefits to an organisation of implementing a FSMS based on this document are:

- a) The ability to consistently provide safe foods and products and services that meet customer and applicable statutory and regulatory requirements.
- b) Addressing risks associated with its objectives.
- c) The ability to demonstrate conformity to specified FSMS requirements.

Learning Objectives

(a) To equip the participants with the basic knowledge and skills to interpret and to document their Food Safety Management Systems effectively.

(b) To enable the participants to acquire fundamental HACCP (Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Point) Methodology and to conduct and document the Hazard Control Plan.
